FYODOR GOLAN show for autumn/winter 2016 at London Fashion Week featuring gold and silver brogue shoes made by Luke Grant-Muller

Ashley Isham Collection at London Fashion Week AW16 with hand-painted gold and holographic brogues (menswear only)

The Designer:

Luke Grant-Muller is an English-born Egyptian, Scot and Ukrainian artist currently living between London and Tokyo. He describes his design signature as “slightly dark, slightly surreal, ambiguous, androgynous, sometimes grimy and sometimes polished.” He mixes it up by experimenting with interesting materials, using them in new ways or new combinations.

The Collection:

Hand-made and based on the classic brogue shoe pattern, these brogues feature a metallic mirror finish tint. Particularly popular amongst performers, stylists and sartorial eccentrics.

Available in italian leather for breathability or PU for extra shine.
